Rainawari Resorts

Rainawari Resorts is an incredibly serene and beautiful gift of god. Pine, peach and plum trees grow in abundance here. The soothing silence is interrupted only by bird call and the wind blowing in the entire Himalayan region.

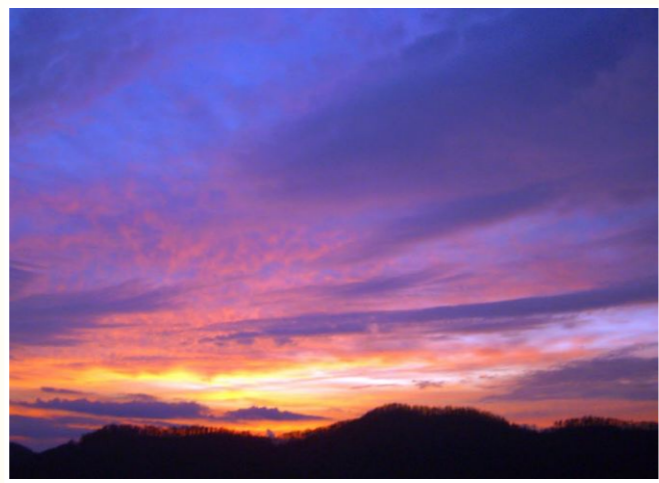

Rainawari Resorts is unique in many ways offering an unforgettable experience...

Location

Rainawari Health Resorts at Almora-Ranikhet Highway is a place which has preserved its virginity and pristine charm. The sweep of Himalayan ranges visible from here is arguably incredible and largest available from any place. It is a pure heaven 6000 feet above the sea level, away from the bustling city life. At Rainawari, nature's beauty overwhelms with its sheer abundance. Majestic snow peaks glisten in the sun. Wind whistles through the pine and towering deodar trees, rustling leaves in their trail. Pathways lead you to a panoramic view of the mighty Himalayas.

Sunrise at Rainwari Resorts

The view of the snow covered peaks is so clear that one gets a feeling of the snow being within touching distance which covers the panoramic view of 180 degree. As the seconds pass by (or stand still?) the emotions of the white and blue canvas-silver, orange, grey-slipping in between tufts of clouds, its rays streaking through the pine trees, calling to the birds to start the day. Timelessness and creativity, new meanings are reborn, myriad emotions, changing, expressed and reflected with each passing moment-the pines, deodars, oaks, tiny mountain flowers, the jungle babbler and undulating hills and the tree line, soothing breezes all juxtaposed perfectly.

Katarmal Sun Temple

Katarmal near Almora has the second important Sun Temple in the country, the first being the Konark Sun Temple in Orissa. The 800 year old temple complex has one main temple, surrounded by 45 smaller shrines.

The temple is a monument of historical importance. The temple has some unique architectural style and the images carved on the walls are very intricately done. Though amidst ruins, it still stands as a major point of attraction in the region and many devotees visit here to offer prayers to the Sun God.

Pine Zone

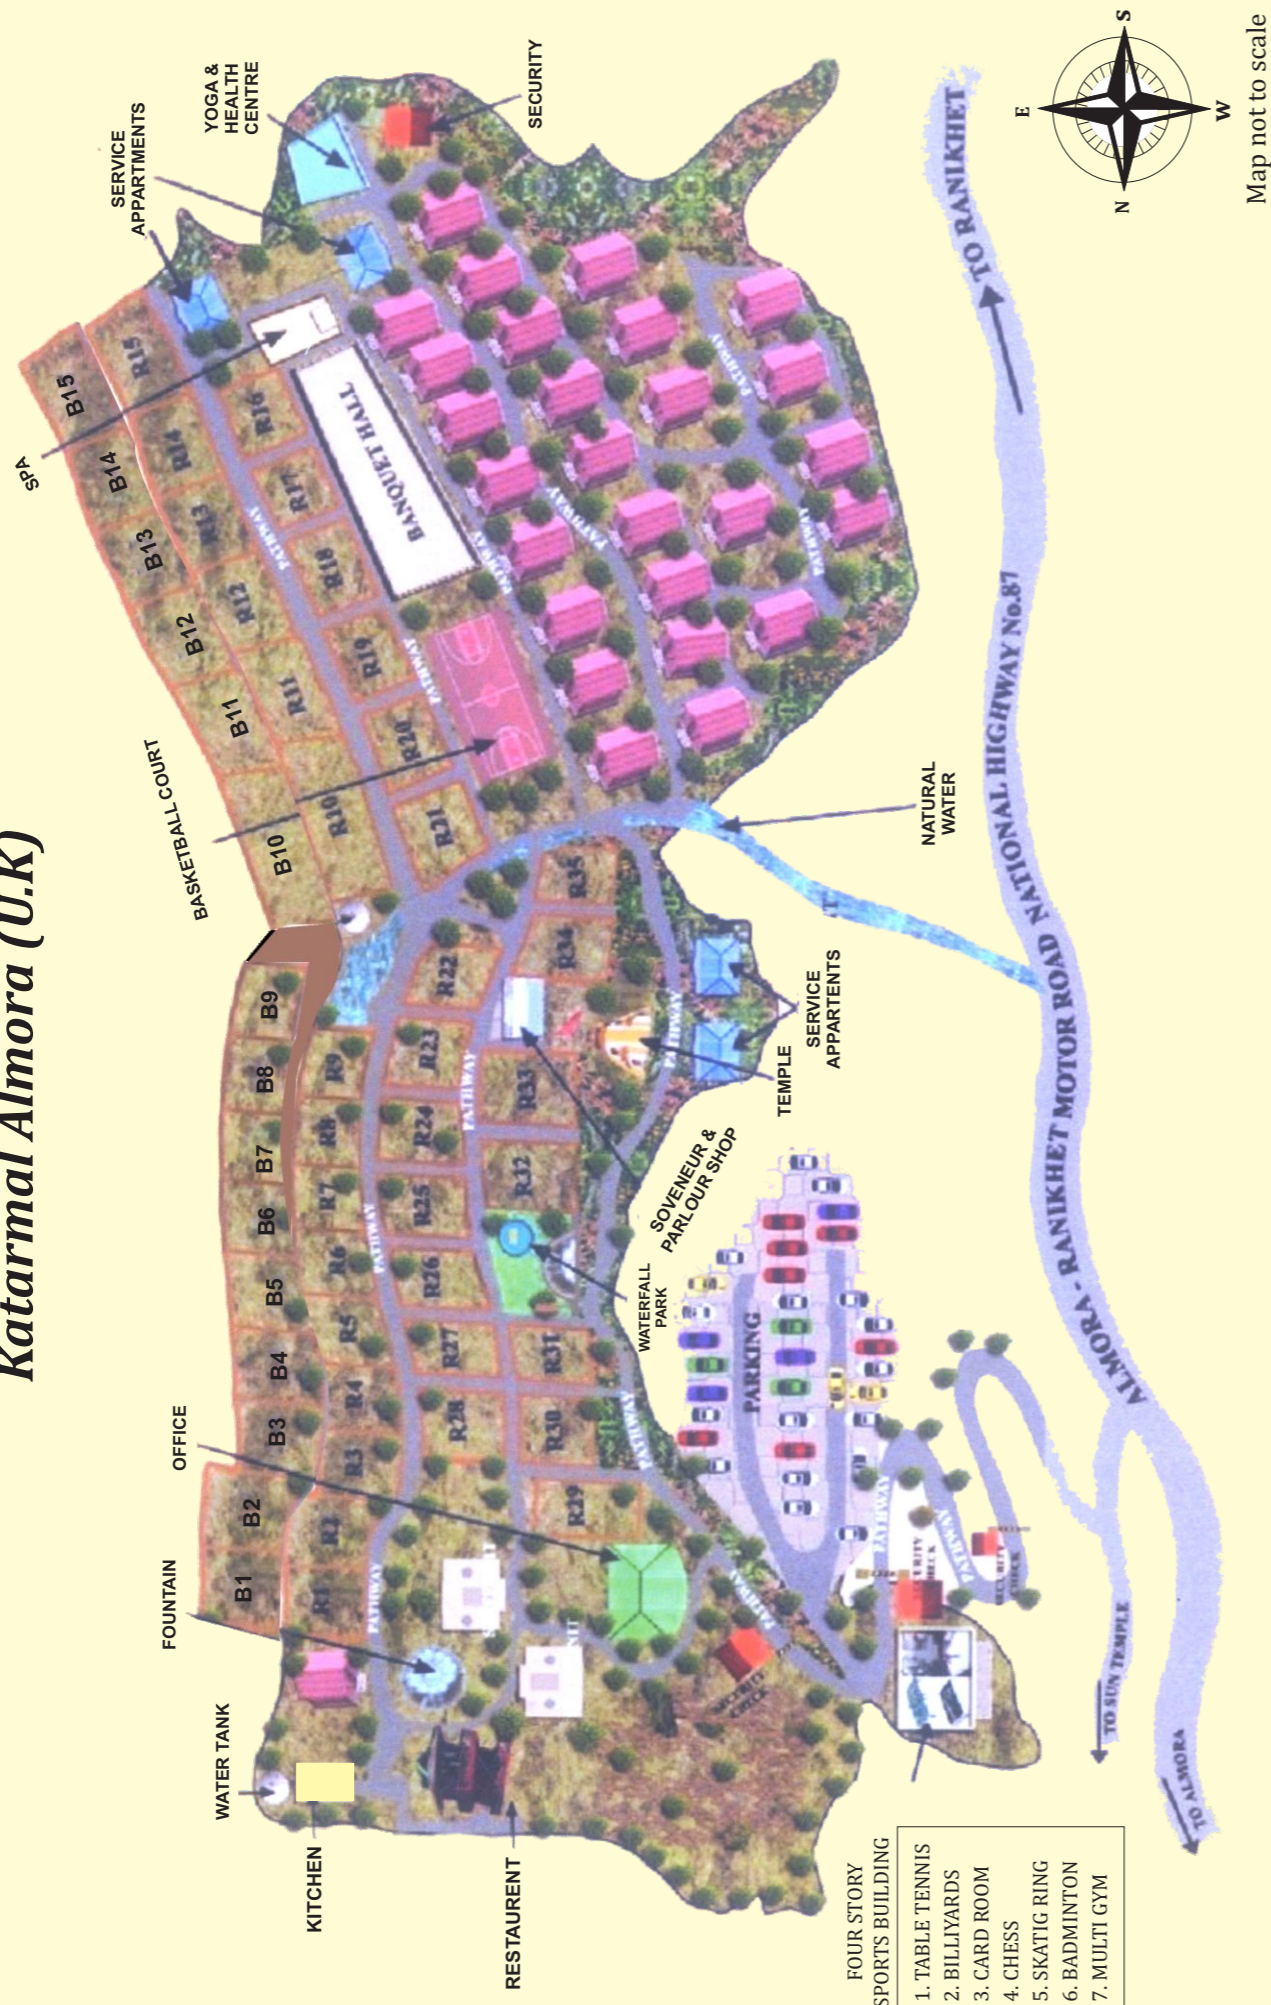

Rainawari Health Resorts is quietly nestled amidst pine trees with a charming background of the snow-clad Himalayas, and has a breathtaking scenic beauty. Blessed with a healthy climate, its magnetic charm attracts tourists all the year round. It is a heaven for visitors who wish to spend their holidays in solitude.

Trishul & Panchchuli

The unfathomable beauty at Rainawari is indeed imaginative and penetrating. Nanda Devi and Trishul overshadow the lesser-known mountains in this region. You can get a panoramic view of Nanda Devi, the second highest peak of India at 7817m. Symbolic of Shiva's three-pronged instrument and his wife's veil are Mt. Trishul and Nanda Ghunti. Other snow-capped peaks that you can view from here are Nanda Kot, Panchchuli, Mrigathuni, Nilkanth, and Nanda Devi peaks.
